There's a place for you

in the R.A.F. as an Apprentice

You've a great chance while you're young to start ahead and stay ahead in the R.A.F. As an Apprentice you receive a first-class training that will make you a fully qualified technician in your chosen trade group while the other fellow is still making up his mind. You are well paid from the start—it doesn't cost your parents a penny. It's a fine life in a fine Service—and the prospects are excellent. If you're between 15 and 17½ now is the time to get off to a flying start as an Apprentice or Boy Entrant. Post the coupon now to be in time for the next entry.

A FATHER'S VIEW

This is a paragraph from a letter read in the B.B.C. West Region programme "Air Space", the correspondence column of the air.

"As the father of an ex-Apprentice who is now 19 years of age, holding the rank of Corporal in the R.A.F., I can assure any parent having the slightest doubt, that such a career holds every advantage afforded by a career in industry . . ."

TO: ROYAL AIR FORCE (J.L.156), VICTORY HOUSE, LONDON, W.C.2.

I am between 15 and 17½. Please send me the free illustrated booklet "Highway for Youth" and details of the Apprenticeship scheme.
